LAST HOURS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Harry B. Smith Elected Prohibition Commissioner

MANY BILLS PASSED

Four Judges Including Louis C. Barley, of the Corporation Court of Alexandria, Selected.

Richmond, March 11.—The senate made a new record yesterday in the matter of passing measures that had come over from the house. Only those bills could be considered, of course, cr the senate bills with house amendments. That was the procedure. The members were in liberal mood, and when the work was taken in hand there were ninety-two bills on the calender which were ready to be dumped into the hopper and to be ground out as completed legislation.

The bills were for the most part of a local character. The senate decided to make short work of these, and with one roll call, after the reading of the bills by title, they were grouped, bunched and blocked and passed—and one roll call sufficed.

At 1.15 o'clock the senate and the house proceeded with the joint order—the election of judges of the courts: Danville, Charlottesville, Alexandria, Richmond, and a prohibition commissioner.

Harry B. Smith, of Culpeper, was chosen as the successor to Dr Peters, and the judges succeeded themselves; E. Walton Browne, Danville; A. D. Habney, Charlottesville; Louis C. Barley, Alexandria, and David Crockett Richardson, Richmond. That consumed nearly an hour, and the candidates received every vote cast.

The house bill requiring the force from the office of the state accountant to examine at least once in two years the books and records of every officer in the cities and counties who handle state funds was passed.

The house bill providing for the establishment in cities of 45,000 inhabitants a central registration bureau, to be kept open every day in the year, that other city departments are open for the transaction of business, and are to register the names of voters who appear, to issue transfers and to register transfers that are presented, the books to be kept there for the purpose from every ward and precinct was called up and passed.

Governor Davis, chairman of the state tax board, sent to the legislature a message from the state tax board calling attention to the proposition to reduce the taxes on bonds, etc. and pointing out that if the senate and the house agreed to the bill making the tax forty-five cents instead of eighty cents, as is now the case, the state will have its resources and revenues cripled to the extent of $350,000—the schools, roads and tuberculosis being the greatest sufferers. The message was the result of the deliberations of the state tax board. Taxes are being levied on all sorts of things to produce the funds to run the state government, and this exemption at this time is not popular in many directions.

SHIP HELPLESS

'Boilers Disabled—We Are Starving,' Reads Radio

Atlantic City, March 11.—Wireless stations here last night intercepted messages from the steamship Tyee, a mallory line vessel, which is in trouble ninety miles south of Atlantic City, somewhere below Cape May.

The messages declared the ship is helpless because of boiler trouble and those on board have been without food for twenty-four hours. A message later intercepted from the steamship Northern Pacific said she was going to the assistance of the Tyee and would reach her by midnight.

Boston, March, 11—The coast guard cutter Seneca was dispatched from New York to the steamship Tyee last night just as a wireless message was intercepted saying she was short of food and needed assistance. The Tyee left Fayal for New York February 29.

FOR MERCHANT FLEET

Good Jobs Await Ex-Soldier and Sailors

Thousands of men are needed to man America's new merchant fleet. The United States Shipping Board has sent a request for apprentices to Lieut.-Col. Mathew C. Smith, in charge of getting employment for ex-soldiers and ex-sailors, and head of the Office of the Assistant to the Secretary of War. Previous experience is not required. Applicants may choose either the deck or steward's department, or engine room service. All must be citizens of the United States, between the ages of 18 and 35 and physially sound, and agree to stay one year.

The United States Shipping Board maintains stations in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, St. Louis, Atlanta and Los Angeles.

Persons not living near these cities may make application to the secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. New men are sent to one of the three training schools maintained at Camp Stuart, Va., San Francisco, Cal., or Seattle, Wash., where they receive $30 a month, besides quarters and subsistence while in training. After a short course of one or two months the apprentice takes his place in actual work at sea, and is paid $65 a month and allowances.

Men with special qualifications can earn in a short time as high as $150 a month. If a man has a high school education or equivalent, he can qualify to be an officer in one year's time. Two years is required for others. There are plenty of vacancies and promotion is rapid.

TO SEIZE TURK WAR OFFICE

Peace Conference Devotes Day to Details of Military and Naval Action

London, March 11.—The peace conference spent yesterday in trying to work out the details of military and naval plans in connection with Turkey, giving particular attention to Armenia. Admiral Beatty, Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary for War, and others were called in to give their opinions. Premier Venizelos, of Greece also was present, and again insisted that the Allies should take the sternest measures against the Sultan.

The general plan of action was not changed, however, as a result of the conference. It became known today that the military demonstration at Constantinople is likely to take the form of Allied military control of certain Turkish governmental activities among them probably the war department.

The conferees were careful to make clear that this does not mean the taking over of the Turkish government at the outset, and would not in the future if Turkey shows an inclination to abide by the terms of the armistice and cease massacres.

Paris, March 11.—The "Temps" says it appears certain that the Allies propose to take certain measures against Turkey because of the recent massacres of Armenians. These, the newspaper believes, will consist of an effective occupation of Constantinople and certain important strategic positions and the exercise of Allied control over all telegraphic communications.

DOCTORS RAISE FEES

POPULATION 18,060 CENSUS FIGURES

Increase of 2,731 or 17.8 Per Cent in Past Ten Years

FIGURES DISAPPOINT

In 1790 Alexandria Had 2,748 Its Largest Growth was in 1800 When it Increased 80.9 Per Cent.

The population of Alexandria according to official figures announced today by the Census Bureau is 18,060. This is an increase of 2,731 or 17.8 per cent increase over the census of 1910 which was 15,329.

The figures announced today do not include the number of males and females and the white and colored persons in this city. This will be announced later as also will be number of manufacturing interests in the city.

The report will be a disappointment to the business interests of the city inasmuch as it was believed that the population for 1920 would be greatly in excess of the foregoing figures owing to the many strangers who have located in Alexandria during the past two or three years and are now making their homes here. Many of these persons brought their families to Alexandria.

In 1910 this city had 15,329 inhabitants, of whom 7,524 were male and 7,805 were female. White males numbered 5,545 and females 5,587. Negro males numbered 1,970 and females 2,218. In that year there were 3,272 dwellings in the city and 3,577 families.

Alexandria is one of the cities which was among the country's fifty principal cities when the first census was taken in 1790. In that year it had 2,748 inhabitants. Its largest growth was in the following decade when the increase was 80.9 per cent.

The increase in the decades following fell until it was less than one per cent in the ten years from 1820 to 1830.

There were slight increases in the following two decades but in the ten years from 1850 to 1860 the increase was 44.9 per cent. There was a slight increase in the following ten years and then in the decade from 1870 to 1880 it fell to less than one per cent again. There were slight increases in the percentage of growth in each of the ten years up to the last census in 1910.

The record of Alexandria's growth follows:

Year	Pop.	Increase, No.	P. C.
1920	18,060	2,731	17.8
1910	15,329	801	5.5
1900	14,528	189	1.3
1890	14,339	680	5.0

GERMANS ATTACK FRENCH

One Member of Commission Dies From Injuries, Another Escapes

Berlin, March 11.—Eight men said to be members of a French military aviation commission, who drove into Wernitz, near Potsdam, in a motor car from Berlin yesterday, were attacked by the inhabitants, who accused the men of poaching and summoned them to surrender.

Four of the men obeyed, but the others tried to escape, one of them being wounded and later dying while being taken to a doctor.

Two of the others later surrendered and the fourth man escaped.

A report on the incident has been transmitted to the French charge d'affaires here by an Allied officer.

The Imperial Government has issued a proclamation signed by Premier Bauer condemning attacks on members of Entente missions. It declares that the Minister of Defense will act with the greatest severity in punishing excesses.

CONFEDERATE BILLS STILL AFLOAT

Agua Prieta, Sonoro, Mexico, March 11.—Military authorities today announced several million dollars dollars in Confederate states currency had been seized at Montezuma. According to the military, Chinamen in Sonora complained this money was being forced upon them by alleged draft evaders from the United States, who claimed the currency was a new issue.

DUEL OVER GIRL

Unknown Survivor of Daylight Revolver Battle Believed Hiding in Philadelphia

Chester, Pa., March 11.—Joseph Virgilio, a young Italian, was killed here in a pistol duel yesterday with an unidentified man. The shooting followed a quarrel between the two over a girl, according to several witnesses of the affair. The murderer escaped after firing four shots into the body of his victim.

The shooting occurred in front of a pool room on West Third street, near Howell, where the men started their quarrel during the noon hour. Virgilio, who was employed in a local shipyard, was identified by a registration card issued by the draft board, of Elizabeth, New Jersey.

Following the shooting the murderer, it is said, waved his revolver in the air, shouting that he would kill the first man who tried to follow him. He then ran a square and boarded a trolley car going, the police think, to Philadelphia to hide. A number of men who saw the shooting were taken into custody, but all denied knowing the name of the fugitive, though all said the fight started over a girl.

Oscar Hawkins, driver of a jitney car, found Virgilio lying in the street in a pool of blood, and placing him in his automobile drove to the Chester Hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

RAID LIQUOR WAREHOUSE

12 Masked Men Haul Away 50 Barrels From Baltimore Distillery

Baltimore, March 11.—A government officer and two watchmen were surprised, held up and bound at the Mount Vernon Distilling Company's plant on Sixteenth street, Highlandtown, at 1:40 a. m., yesterday, by 12 masked men, who entered the plant with drawn revolvers and hauled away 50 barrels of whisky.

The whisky at the lowest government valuation is worth $25,000. At the prevailing bootleg prices it would bring $90,000.

The three guards are not sure how many automobile trucks were used by the thieves, but they are confident that they heard at least four.

TREATY TEST IS COMING TODAY

Supporters of Wilson and Bryan to Match Strength

ARTICLE TEN ISSUE

Fight Between Senator Hitchcock and Commoner Feature of Controversy. —Rebel Against Wilson.

Washington, March 11.—A test of strength is imminent today between Administration Senators standing by the President and the growing number of Democratic Senators sharing William Jennings Bryan's opinion that to make Article X a campaign issue would be suicidal for the Democratic Party.

Bryan is expected to reappear in the Senate lobbies and anti-rooms before the last ditch of the treaty fight is reached. He hopes to fan the hot resentment among many Democratic Senators at the President's insistence upon injecting the League of Nations in the campaign.

Bryan's avowed oppositions to the Presidential aspirations of Senator Hitchcick, the Administration's treaty manager, is bound to make itself felt on the treaty situation. The political fight that Bryan and Hitchcock have resumed in Nebraska with all of its former bitterness is sure to become national in interest.

Bryan wants the treaty ratified. He believes the Democratic side should even accept the original Lodge reservation to Article X rather than block ratification for the second time. He thinks the will of a Senate majority should prevail.

Hitchcock apparently agrees with the President that the treaty fight should be carried into the campaign. Like the President, Hitchcock thinks the Lodge reservation "cuts at the very heart and life" of Article X. He obviously is ready to stand in the way of ratification again rather than accept the Lodge reservation unless it is modified materially.

There are many Democratic Senators who do not share either the President's or Hitchcock's views. A number of them are so opposed to the President forcing the treaty into the campaign, unless the Republican side yields on Article X, that they are in open rebellion against the President and Hitchcock.

But even their leaders admit there are not yet enough of them to develop a revolt that would swing sufficient votes to insure ratification on the basis of the Lodge reservation program.

DISTRIBUTE THE BURDEN

The Good Book tells us that every man should bear his own burden. And these infallible words, while used primarily in a spiritual sense, can be made to apply to our secular affairs as well.

The Gazette yesterday in commenting upon the action of certain of our city fathers in blocking the adoption of the report of the finance committee which provides for an increased taxation upon real estate in our city in order to meet the present cost of operating our city government, made no criticism of their motives. We prefer to wait a time with patience in order to comprehend their motive.

It is realized by the great majority of the voters of Alexandria that increased taxation is inevitable, and as we have been compelled to submit to demands of the butcher, the grocer and the candlestickmaker when stocking the family larder, it might have been expected that the tax gatherer would present increased demands upon our exchequers sooner or later.

But in this connection the query, Should the bulk of the burden be placed upon real estate is pertinent. Should not tax laws be so amended as to strike all equitably? There is said to be a sad disparagement in assessment upon many who are amassing fortunes in one business enterprise and another, while a large percentage of the inhabitants of our city, some of whom are loudest in suggestions as to how a city should be operated, are probably paying as much as $2.50 a year in city taxes.

Increasing assessment upon real estate undoubtedly gives a city a black eye. Strangers contemplating coming among us naturally ask the rate of taxation. When told that the rate is about to be fixed at $2.50 upon every hundred dollars' worth of real estate, they strike a frost and back away from us. Instances could be cited where capitalists had considered the advisability of erecting houses in Alexandria until they ascertained the taxes upon such investments.

The capitation tax of our city is fifty cents upon each male adult, and those not owners of real estate, or the great majority, if housekeepers, are assessed on one hundred dollars' worth of furniture.

It is but just to say that the bulk of the increase should not fall upon those owning real estate who have been denying themselves for years in order to acquire homes. Why should not tenants who have furnished their abodes lavishly pay their proportion of this increase? Should assessment and taxation be upon equitable bases, the real estate owner would have his burdens eased and the spirit of the biblical command, Let every man bear his own burden, would be carried out.

CARDINAL'S OBSERVATIONS

The one thing that will preserve proper order in your house is the Christian authority of the Christian father of a family. There is no doubt that one of the main causes of this sinister feminism of which we read so much and see quite enough, is what would appear to be a growing weakness on the part of the manhood of the nation."

This was the vigorous protest against feminism made by Cardinal O'Connell at the closing exercises of the mission for men in the Holy Cross Cathedral in Boston. He urged men to exercise their rightful authority against the tendencies of the times, which make women "masculine" and the men "feminine."

"The very fact that women are so often clamoring to take all power and authority into their hands is certainly no compliment to the manhood of the nation." Cardinal O'Connell continued, "And really we must admit that there are signs of decadence or lack of proper authority and self respect in fathers of families.

"After all women, the wife and the children, expect a father to have and to exercise the rightful authority due to his position. But if he abdicates that position, if he has no love for his home, if he is away from it whenever he can be, if he takes no interest in the children except merely to give enough money to support them—well, no one can be surprised if, little by little, women learn to do without the authority of the men and begin to usurp a great deal of it themselves.

"That leads to a false feminism, which certainly, unless it is curbed in time, will have disastrous results for humanity, because it is unnatural."

DAYLIGHT ROBBERIES

The daring acts of bandits who in broad daylight on crowded streets in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore smash windows and make off in automobiles with many thousands of dollars' worth of gems, shows that greater safeguards than now exist should be thrown around jewelry stores. Robberies of banks during the busy hours of the day are becoming common. In most such occurrences attaches are killed.

During the early nineties, when the Coxey army invaded Washington officers of the Alexandria banks held a conference with the late Mayor Henry Strauss and James F. Webster, then Chief of Police, at which plans were perfected for the proper safeguarding of these institutions. In this era of lawlessness there is no telling what may happen anywhere.

The people of Baltimore had been reading of daylight robberies in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and elsewhere, but seemed to think they were immune from such outlaws. They were, however, rudely awakened Tuesday when thieves appeared on one of their most busy thoroughfares, smashed the show windows of a jewelry firm with an axe seized many thousands of dollars' worth of gems and made off in an automobile.

The display of gems and jewelry in Alexandria is on a moderate scale. Many such exhibitions are made in Washington, however, and that which has been accomplished in other places is by no means impossible hereabouts.

STILL IN THE LIMELIGHT

Assemblyman Louis Cuvillier, an Alexandrian by birth, is busy preparing the evidence to be submitted to the New York Assembly Judiciary Committee, which has been directed to investigate the Anti Saloon League.

"I intend to have John D. Rockefeller subpoenaed," said Mr. Cuvillier. "It has come to my knowledge that he pays to William Anderson, superintendent of the Anti Saloon League, a yearly salary of $15,000, at the rate of $1,250 a month by check through the Fifth Avenue branch of the Corn Exchange Bank, New York."

Mr. Cuvillier, in making this charge, made public a letter from Edward S. Webster, a lawyer, of 60 Wall street, New York, detailing the old rumor of the main sources of the Anti-Saloon League was the Rockefeller interests. This was denied in an interview in The Tribune a year ago by Mr. Rockefeller, who said that the league had received less than $50,000 of the Rockefeller money.

Asked one night this week about Cuvillier's assertion that he drew a $15,000 salary from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Mr. Anderson said:

"It is absolutely untrue in every particular, and yet no more untrue than a lot of things Mr. Cuvillier has said."

VIRGINIA SHIPBUILDING

The whole state is interested in the accumulating proof of the feasibility of ship building plants on the waters of our big inland water-ways, as shown in the launching on Saturday of the 7th 9,400-ton freighter at the Virginia Shipbuilding corporation's yards at Alexandria. All are familiar with the splendid deep-water plant at Newport News, which ranks with the very best and largest in the whole country, but the Alexandria venture has not heretofore attracted so much attention.

What benefits one part of the state is a resultant benefit to the whole, and the success of this small new enterprise is an encouraging after war sign, that will most likely lead to others to follow in other streams in the near future.—Charlottesville Progress.

SLAYS FATHER

Tells Police he Used Hatchet After Being Attacked With Knife

Chillicothe, March 11.—Following exhumation Tuesday of his father's body, Layton Devault, 17-year old son of Soah Devault, Adelpha farmer, yesterday confessed he murdered his parent, according to officers.

At the time of Devault's death, February 6, the boy, who first called attention to his father's body lying in a stall in the barn, said his father had been kicked by a horse.

Late yesterday, after incessant questioning, young Devault is said to have confessed that he hit his father three times in the head with a hatchet. The boy, according to the alleged confession, said his father had attacked him first with an open knife. He is being held in the county jail.

COCKE BILL PASSES

State, Under Terms of Measure, Can Manufacture Whisky When Supply is Exhausted

Richmond, March 11.—By a vote of 22 to 14, the Senate this week without debate passed the Cocke bill, providing that physicians with permits in accordance with the Volstead act, may dispense ardent spirits for medicinal purposes. No doctor may have on hand more than six gallons of liquor during a year.

The ardent spirits will be dispensed through the State Health Commissioner. Manufacture by the State is provided for in case supplies cannot be secured from other sources.

Physicians in counties where there is a drug store may not, under the bill, have on hand at any one time more than a gallon of liquor which must be prescribed in emergency cases only.

TRANSPORT ORE

Vancouver, B. C., March 11.—Four airplanes are to be used this summer in carrying ore from mines of the Granby Mining Company, twelve miles to tidewater at Stewart, B. C., it was announced yesterday. Each plane will carry 1,000 pounds of ore a trip. Freight charges, it is estimated will be reduced 50 per cent by airplane transportation.

STRANGER ATTACKS GIRL

Miss Annie Gallagher, of Hagerstown, Victim on Lonely Road

Hagerstown, Md., March 11.—An attack was made Monday evening by an unidentified white man on Miss Annie Gallagher, aged 14, along a lonely road near Halfway, as she was turning home from the Hagerstown Female High School. The stranger is aged about 30, smooth faced, and wore a cap and blue overalls. The girl, who is large for her age, fought him desperately and screamed for help. With severe lacerations and bruises about her neck and face, Miss Gallagher ran home. The Hagerstown officers were not notified until three hours later. It is thought the man boarded a freight train for Harrisburg.

DRY LAW UPHELD

Trenton, N. J., March 10.—The prohibition amendment and the Volstead act were upheld as constitutional in the Federal District Court here Tuesday by Judge John Rellstab. He held that prohibition enforcement does not constitute an illegal confiscation of property, in denying an application by Christian Feigenspan, Inc., brewers, demanding an injunction against Federal officers from enforcing the Volstead act.

"What Congress has the power to do in exercising an implied power, it assuredly may do in carrying out an express power," said Judge Rellstab. "The alleged loss to the plaintiff which it is said will result from enforcement of the prohibition act, is incidental to the exercise by Congress of a constitutional power and it alone determines whether compensation shall be made for such loss," he said.

SUFFRAGE WINS

State Senator Block of West Virginia Makes Record Trip Across Continent to Vote

Charleston, W. Va., March 11.—Completing a record breaking trip across the continent from California, State Senator Jesse A. Bloch took his seat in the West Virginia Senate late yesterday afternoon and cast the deciding vote in favor of ratification resolution being carried by a vote of 15 to 14.

Opponents of suffrage had hoped to create another deadlock by gaining authorization for A. R. Montgomery, who had resigned but whose resignation had not been acted upon, to vote on the amendment. This hope was shattered yesterday afternoon when the Senate, by a vote of 16 to 12; declared Montgomery's seat vacant.

Part of Senator Bloch's trip—from Chicago to Cincinnati—was made in a special train at a cost of $5,000. "That report that Mrs. Bloch prevented me from riding from Chicago to Cincinnati in an airplane is wrong," said Senator Bloch. "There wasn't much time for making a choice; I arrived in Chicago at 11:30 and thirty minutes later was on the special. We made a record run to Cincinnati, and there were only two of us on the train—a traveling passenger agent and myself."

Bloch was greeted by cheering hundreds at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad station here.

$25 FOR A COOKED HAM

New York, March 11.—A householder's refusal to pay a delicatessen store $25 for a cooked ham was sustained today by a Municipal Court jury, which returned a verdict for Robert H. Mainzer, a wealthy resident of the West Side. He deducted $11 from the bill on learning that the best cooked ham should not cost more than $1 a pound and was sued by the store for the balance.

Since the suit was entered he has received 139 letters praising his stand and three hams have been given him. Justice Young said the bill was outrageous and directed the store to pay the costs of the suit.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Plans to have erected in Richmond a great central library building as a memorial to the sons and daughters of the State who served in the world war has received the approval of the Senate, which passed a substitute for the Mills bill, providing dedication of the Ford lot to the State by the city of Richmond, and granting to the municipality a fifteen foot strip of Capitol Square along Bank street.

Purchase of the Harrisonburg and Rawley Springs and the Harrisonburg and Franklin turnpikes has been completed by the Rockingham county board of supervisors. Collection of tolls will be discontinued, and the roads will be taken over by the county on April 1. The county thus secures 17 miles of improved road. The purchase marks the passing of the toll gates from the last two of the highways entering Harrisonburg.

The rate of infant mortality in Richmond was 40 per cent less in 1919 than the average in 1917 and 1918.

By a vote of 46 to 37 the House of Delegates this week passed the bill permitting appeals to the Supreme Court as a matter of right. The bill now goes to the Senate for concurrence. Several of the ablest members of the upper branch and known to be opposed to the measure and its progress is expected to be even more bitterly contested than it was in the House.

Resolutions eulogizing the late United States Senator Thomas S. Martin, who died November 12 last, were adopted in the State Senate Tuesday.

Col. Robert F. Leedy, of Page County, member of the State Senate, is contemplating running for Congress from the Seventh district in opposition to Representative Thomas W. Harrison, incumbent.

Fire yesterday afternoon destroyed the storehouse of Sternheimer Bros., junk dealers, in Richmond. The building was formerly the power house of the old Richmond and Henrico Traction Company. The loss was thought to be upward of $50,000. Two firemen were slightly hurt in a fall from a ladder.

Two hundred thousand dollars' worth of jewelry was found intact and undamaged when the Chamberlin Hotel safe was unearthed and opened Thursday afternoon. This jewelry was owned by the guests and had been placed there for safekeeping. One hundred thousand dollars' worth is ownedby Mrs. Schwerinet. of New York city. Guests at the hotel who had deposited jewelry or money at the office were busy yesterday afternoon collecting it. Most of the hotel records were found in the vault.

A dispatch from Norfolk says messages asking all ships at sea to search for the steamer Cubadist were sent broadcast by the government wireless station Tuesday night. The vessel, which was owned by the Cuba Distilling Company, of New York, was due at Baltimore on March 2 from Matanzas, Cuba, with a 1,500,000 gallon cargo of molasses. She carried a crew of 40 men. The Cubadist was last reported 111 miles southeast of Diamond Shoals on February 20. It is feared she may have been caught in a heavy blow off Hatteras and capsized or broken in two as did her sister ship.

Succeeding Judge Stafford Whittle, resigned, Judge Edward W. Saunders, former representative from the Fifth district, took his seat on the bench of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals Tuesday when the spring term convened.

ANNEX TO STATE LIBRARY

Colonial Dames of Virginia Back Bill to Preserve Priceless Records and Relics

Final action on the budget bill this week by both branches of the General Assembly was a signal in the Senate for the passage of measures granting special appropriations for various purposes.

The largest single appropriation was $40,000 for the purpose of erecting a fireproof annex to the State Library Building in which to house the priceless manuscripts and relics of the past. This bill was introduced at the request of the Colonial Dames of Virginia, and a sufficient number to get it adopted in the House has been pledged.

The Senate also passed a bill appropriating $4,000 to make alterations in the Confederate Memorial Institute in order to take care of the $1,000,000 art masterpieces presented to the State by John Barton Payne, of Chicago.

Among the other bills passed were the following:

To appropriate $10,000 to the Matthew Fontaine Maury Association for the purpose of aiding in the erection of a monument, to request the Governor to designate Matthew Fontaine Maury Monument Day; and to provide for calling on the people of Virginia for contributions.

To appropriate $10,000 to the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, to be used solely for the restoration and preservation of grounds and buildings at Jamestown Island.

To appropriate the sum of $40,000 for the erection of a fireproof building in the Capitol Square, at Richmont, for the safekeeping of State archives.

To make an appropriation of $4,000 for the purpose of making such changes in the Confederate Memorial Institute as will be necessary to provide for housing the paintings presented to the State of Virginia by John Barton Payne.

TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION

Measure is Almost Identical With Federal Bill, and Now Goes to Governor

Frankfort, Ky., March 11.—The Kentucky Legislature Tuesday completed adoption of a bill providing for enforcement of prohibition in the State. The House by a vote of 58 to 12 concurred in amendments added to the bill in the Senate, which passed it a week ago. The measure which is practically the same as the Federal bill governing enforcement of prohibition, now goes to the Governor.

You Are an Honest Lad and Will Probably Make Your Way in the World," Boy is Told

New York, March 11.—An order on the Bank of Montreal, entitling the bearer to $1,200,000 in railroad bonds was picked up in the street in the financial district Tuesday by Harry Hahn, a 17 year old clerk.

Noting the brokerage from signature on the order the youth delivered the paper at its office. A reward of $2 was given to him with the advice "that he was an honest lad and probably would make his way in the world."

PILOT BURNS TO DEATH

Elkhart, Ind., March 11.—Lieut. Stoner, United States mail pilot, en route from Chicago to Cleveland, was burned to death yesterday, when his plane fell near New Paris, Ind.

The gas tank exploded when the machine landed. The plane and its mail cargo were destroyed and Stoner's body practically consumed.

Nearby farmers said the pilot apparently was troubled by his engine, as they heard him circling about in the fog with the motor often missing.

HEARING SET FOR JUNE

Third Trial of Dry Inspector Hall Postponed at Manassas

Manassas, Va., March 11.—Judge Samuel G. Brent, of the Circuit Court of Prince William County, yesterday issued an order postponing from the April term of this court to the June term the third trial of William C. Hall. State prohibition inspector, charged with killing Lawrence Hudson, an alleged booze runner at Fishers Hill, Va., the morning of March 26, 1919, when Hall, in company with other prohibition officers, attempted to arrest Hudson and a companion, Raymond Shackelford, on charge of transporting a large quantity of liquor from Baltimore into Virginia by automobile.

The postponement is caused by the inability of the chief counsel for the defense, L. O. Wendemberg, of Richmond, to be in attendance on April 5, the day set for the trial. This case was brought to Prince William County from Shenandoah county because of the strong sentiment prevailing against the officers near the scene of the shooting.

The case was heard by Judge Brent in September and again in December, a hung jury resulting each time, the first being a tie and the second stood nine for conviction and 3 for acquittal. The other prohibition officers arrested at the time were H. E. Sweet, W. B. Dunlavey and John Sullivan, whose cases were nolle prossed in December.

The right of way extends from Richmond to the Pamunkey River and is about 16 miles in length. It represents the last of the railroads' holdings, the rolling stock and the rails having been disposed of several years ago.

The State Highway Commissioner has the authority under the law to incorporate this mileage into the system by his own action. Appeal from his decision in these cases may be made to the commission.

THEATRES

INGOMAR—"Olive Thomas"

Olive Thomas' new Selznick picture "Out Yonder," which opens at the Ingomar Theatre tonight is one which for sheer, gripping interest has seldom been approached. The genius of Director Ralph Ince and the artistry of Miss Thomas have combined to create as compelling a drama as the screen has ever known.

Cast in the role of "Flotsam," a little waif of the sea, Miss Thomas displays that ability which has placed her foremost among the screen stars of today. There is an elusive, elfin charm about her to which words do scant justice, but which surrounds her on the screen with an almost tangible aura. It is this charm which she employs to such good advantage in "Out Yonder."

Miss Thomas is excellent, the supporting cast is adequate, direction is masterly and the scenic effects are truly beautiful. In every way "Out Yonder" is a representative Selznick picture.

RICHMOND—Douglas Fairbanks

Douglas Fairbanks in his newest picture "His Majesty, the American" will be the attraction at the Richmond again tonight. Here's a picture for you—a romance with a regular hero, and heroine and oodles of villians an' everything. And such a hero! He cleans up everything from New York to the Mexican Border and then hops to Europe to show them how to handle a revolution. Can he do it? Well—you know Doug!

MURDERED IN TAXI

Pennsylvanian Robbed of Money Intended for Purchase of "Moonshine"

New Castle, Pa., March 11.—Emil Hadasy, of Girard, Ohio, was murdered and robbed of $300 in a taxicab while on his way to this place Tuesday night to buy moonshine whisky. Alexander Ross, driver of the taxicab, also was robbed of $300, according to the story told to the police by Ross.

Hadasy, according to the police, met two men in Youngstown, Ohio, and arranged with them for the purchase of the liquor. They engaged Ross to drive them to this place, but when five miles away one of the men, according to Ross, shot Hadasy, took the money from his pockets and threw the body into a snowdrift.

The men then robbed Ross and ordered him to drive them to Bessemer. This he did, where he told the police Hadasy's body was found this morning. Ross was detained by the police pending an investigation.

LOSE HUNDRED TOWNS

Vermont Returns Show Loss of 8,000 Prohibition Votes

Montpelier, Vt., Marh 11.—Advocates of license added nearly 100 towns, "dry" a year ago, to the "wet" column in the town meetings held recently. Reports to the Secretary of State from 232 out of the 247 cities and towns, received up to today, showed that 125 towns voted yes, 101 voted no, two were tied on the question and four took no vote. Last year thirty towns voted license.

The aggregate vote of the towns reporting to date shows a falling off of more than 8,000 votes on the "dry" side, with the license supporters maintaining their numbers of a year ago. The vote cast this year was: Yes 15,538; no 10,956. Last year the same cities and towns gave: Yes, 15,781;
